

Gevo centralizes and secures their contract administration needs with CobbleStone's Contract Insight Solution

Gevo is the leading technology development company for biobutanol, a versatile platform chemical for the liquid fuels and petrochemical market that can be used as a gasoline blendstock to meet clean air standards and renewable fuel obligations.

Gevo's goals are to deliver the performance of gasoline without the environmental impact, help to eliminate supply scarcity and reduce our dependency on foreign oil and reduce green house gases and emissions.

Issues the Gevo was facing that required them to seek a contract management solution

CobbleStone Systems' Contract Management Software System was implemented prior to Robin's arrival at Gevo Inc. However, as a primary user of the software, she is uniquely situated to understand some of the predated challenges her company faced. She stated that the legal department had been struggling with tracking contracts and obligations, so they took it upon themselves to seek a solution.

The benefits of CobbleStone Systems Contract Insight Contract Management Software according to Gevo

Gevo chose CobbleStone for a variety of reasons, chief among them being the system's "great tracking functions" said Robin of Gevo. She also noted that the system is convenient and has a secure online backup that can be accessed from anywhere. Robin is especially impressed with CobbleStone "great support team", quickly answering any questions or issues directed towards them.
